Project Statement:

People have a lot of tasks and ideas going on in their day to day lives, but it is hard to keep track of them all and can lead to people feeling overwhelmed, so they need an efficient way to organize these tasks/ideas to keep focus and remain productive

Miscellaneous:

Flash logo when enter the app?

Color or Font (general themes) user can choose from

User can't customized absolutely everything (can't pick any color)

Potential Complexity & Features

Default - Simplicity

Something to consider: Aesthetic vs. functional customizability customizable KEY (notation) for bujo

User customization options: themes, tags, icons, reminders

Reflection aspect - pop up of the previous days' tasks?

Minimalist theme

Very easy to understand and use for the average user, but allows users to gain access to more complex tools if they want it

Rapid

Accessibility features: dyslexia font, colorblind mode, etc.

About page that can guide the user if they are a little lost/want guidance on how Bujos work similar to above note: notifications/r eminders to do reflections ability to customize layout/font/page

Modularity; adding different spreads that are treated as blocks of content

A search function

Speech to Text

account system?

Core Aspects?

Logs

in addition to daily/monthly/future logs we can create template logs for other things like fitness logs or financial/spending logs

Zoom out functionality: daily -> monthly -> yearly monthly trackers

Calendar screen for high level overview

Ability to have video/audio logs?

Allows users to move their note to a different category/place/ty pe of log after then write it if we are doing a modularity concept, we could have some optional subspreads

maybe allow users to design spread formats from more freeform default spreads

Migrations

Quick one or two click option to migrate notes to appropriate log

After a certain number of migrations of an event, ask if user still wants to migrate it or if they want to delete it Should still keep a record of where it was before it migrated?

show date note was created

Index

Multiple styles for index (different format choices)

Index should naturally fill with addition of spreads/pages

Customizable tags for sorting

Should always be easy to access - maybe in like a sidebar or something?

maybe like a home button ^ in journal pages

Ability to jump to selected section or date from the index

Rapid Logging

Default -> daily log option to quickly create blank page that can be categorized later customizable bullet points and let the user decide their meanings

Vim Mode: keyboard bindings (optional)

No home screen

Easy to write quick notes without much detail

Custom tags/labels and their description (like github) thinking of rapid logs as more freeform spreads due dates (kinda) option for reminders if someone puts down a goal ask if they can break it down more

Collections

Record past

Log present

Plan Future

Archive option for certain entries, and/or automated archive of old entries.

Summary Statistics

miro